

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

We are over the half-way point of term three and the pace doesn't look like it is going to subside any time soon. Swimming lessons will be completed for PP – Yr 6 by the end of this week. These lessons provide the opportunity to develop important life long skills. I thank parents for supporting the lessons and my staff who adapt to the changes swimming lessons bring very well.

Congratulations to our school Cross Country Team which participated in the inter school carnival on Friday 19th Aug. Overall Bletchley Park PS came second. Our Year Five and Six students won their sections of the event. A big thanks to Mr Cave who trained our team and assisted in organising the event.

Last week we also celebrated Science Week. Students participated in a number of activities during their science classes. They also attended the science incursion 'The Magical World of Crazy Science' which they thoroughly enjoyed. Please see the pictures later in the newsletter.

On Monday 29th August staff will participate in this terms SDD. Students do not attend on this day. Helping Hands will be available to support families who need their child/ren looked after. Staff will be reflecting against some whole school practices as well as receiving further professional learning in the technology space.

The students are starting to get excited as the Faction athletics carnival draws closer. These are generally great events which receive a lot of parent support. Later in the newsletter you will find some information about the athletics carnivals. We promote full participation, good sportsmanship and encourage all students to do their best.

In the near future, the school will be seeking feedback from the school community through the bi-annual National School Opinion Survey which is conducted with parents, students and staff. We will be sending links to all families as well as having iPads available at assemblies and the Parent Open Afternoon on Wed 21st Sept to complete the survey. We encourage as many parents as possible to respond.

Our wonderful P&C will also be running the annual Father's Day stall from Wednesday 31st August to Friday 2nd September. This small but dedicated group of parents do an amazing job of providing a wide variety of gifts so all students can spoil their Dads.

On the 1st of September students will also have the opportunity to dress as their favourite book character as we celebrate Book Week. This again is a great whole school event, which students enjoy and assists in promoting the love of reading. We will be holding a parade first thing in the morning which parents are welcome to stay for. Tuesday the 30th August is the next date for our School Board meeting. This meeting is open to the school community. It commences at 7:00pm and is held at the school.

It has been nice to have a rain free week.

Regards Wayne Walpole

Merit and values Award Winners – 12th August 2022

This week's junior assembly was hosted by Mrs MacDonald, Miss Capewell and Mrs Domoney's wonderful Year 2 students. They amazed with their knowledge of the seven continents of the world as they shared many super facts with us. LA 11 and 12 finished off with a fabulous song all about the world.

What an amazing item- congratulations Year Twos!

LA 27 and LA 28 Senior Assembly

At assembly today the students from LA 28 went first and told us some interesting facts about Asian countries followed by LA 27. We learnt fascinating details about many, very different, places. The MC's were entertaining and did a great job keeping the transitions from one country to the next seamless, and bringing humour to the presentation. Congratulations goes to all students for their song about using an Atlas and to Mia for her solo towards the end of the song and dance routine, you were all fantastic and kept the audience entertained! Another excellent assembly from Mrs Leslie and Ms Lombardo and all of their students.

Science Incursion

Science

In 2022, the world observes the United Nations International Year of Glass, celebrating one of the most important, versatile and transformative materials of history. Glass has many applications in our lives today but, as it is infinitely recyclable, it will have an enormous impact in our sustainable future.

Glass is made by heating and mixing silica (quartz sand) with limestone, soda ash and other ingredients, to a temperature of 1500°C. This changes the solid materials to a liquid, which can be poured, shaped and cooled to form glass for windows, bottles, jars etc.

This term in science students are studying chemical sciences which looks at materials and change of state. In junior and middle science students have been learning about the effects of adding and removing heat from different substances and recycling materials. In senior science students have linked their scientific knowledge of change of state to the recycling process.

Recycling glass is important for sustainability, as it decreases the need to make new glass and less glass goes to landfill. Recycled glass can be crushed into glass sand which allows it to be reprocessed not only into glass products but also construction projects for roads and concrete.

Fulgurite

Obsidian

Glass can also be made naturally;

When lightning strikes beach sand, glass structures called fulgurites can be formed.

When lava cools quickly it can form volcanic glass called obsidian.

The following websites can be viewed for more information on glass and recycling.

Bletchley Park PS celebrated National Science Week with an incursion from 'The Magical World of Crazy Science'. The performer entertained the students with a combination of scientific dialogue and science experiments, along with comedy and illusion. The success of the show was confirmed by student comments and excitement along with positive feedback from staff.
